

The FedEx Express Hub in Indianapolis, IN

With strategic location in the heart of the continental United States, the FedEx Express Hub at the Indianapolis International Airport helps connect customers to more than 220 countries and territories on six continents.

FedEx Express Hub

---

- Began Operations: 1988
- Workforce: More than 4,000 FedEx Express employees
- Facilities: Nearly two million square-foot facility on approximately 280 acres within the Indianapolis International Airport complex
- Operations: 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year
- Volume: More than 650 flights per month with connectivity to many of the domestic and international markets served by FedEx. Two sorts per day bring an average of 50,000 packages through the facility daily

Key Facts and Figures

---

- The FedEx Indianapolis Hub is a critical part of the FedEx Express network. Geographically located in the heartland of the continental United States, the FedEx Express Hub at the Indianapolis International Airport provides frequent and convenient access to both U.S. and international markets.
- The Hub in Indianapolis is within a one-day drive to more than 70 percent of the major business centers in the U.S.
- As the second-largest FedEx Express Hub in the U.S., our local operations have helped rank Indianapolis International Airport as one of the top ten busiest air cargo facilities in the United States and among the top 25 in the world.